May 2018

Betty Francis instructed by Heather.

Crochet Club Proves to Be a Favorite

Several people showed interest in crocheting last month at the introductory gathering, so we will continue to meet for inspiration and learning once a month. Donna Griffin and her daughter Diane and friend Heather will be on hand to assist or simply chat about crochet projects past and present. Our next meeting will be on May 10 at 3pm.

Creativity Abounds

Here are just two of the creative options before us in May:

- Clay is such a fun medium for creativity! Don't like what you did? Scrunch it up and start over! Love it? Save it forever on your shelf or give it to someone you love! It is fun to get an idea and see where it goes. Just ask Lu Barney. In fact, ask her in person as you give this a try with her on May 16. No talent required. It's pure fun!
- Take part in the creation of our decorations for the July barbecue. The theme is "Under the Sea", and Gina will get you started with papier-mâché fish and scenes in the courtyard on May 11 and 14. Let her know if you are interested.

Mary found Donna a good teacher!

Welcome to Norma Harris and Kathy Gibney

Two new faces are on the scene at Redwood Terrace!

Norma was born in southern California, but has spent much of her life in Oregon. She loves to read, and once raised goats and other farm animals. She has always loved gardening.

Kathy has been a resident of Cave Junction for 50 years and is visiting us for a little while. She has enjoyed knitting, bowling, and golfing.

Mystery Resident

Our Mystery resident for May was born and raised in Oregon, in a small town several miles north of Corvallis. She and her family had to move from there just after the Pearl Harbor attack, because their town was chosen for construction of Camp Adair, a much needed and used military base.

This mystery person was the middle child of three children. She remembers riding her older sister's bike all over the area with her friend. Their front yard was especially big, so all of the neighbor kids would play there.

Our mysterious friend met her husband at a dance. They were married 29 years before he passed. They had four children, two boys and two girls in alternating order: Robert, Karen, Kenneth, and Jennifer. She's very proud of how her children grew up, as she should be.

After her children were mostly grown, our special person went back to school and earned an LPN degree, which enabled her to work in nursing homes. Unfortunately, the same year she graduated, her husband passed away.

A couple of years later, our dear mystery woman married again, this time for only a few years until his passing. From this marriage she inherited a wonderful stepdaughter, Diane, who lives in town and visits often. In 1989, our mysterious neighbor married Marvin, and gained yet another stepdaughter, Rita. Together they moved to Peel, Oregon. They both retired and began traveling, which our heroine loved! They took several trips to Alaska, and spent much of her winters in Arizona. It turned out that she got to meet Ernest Borgnine while in Alaska! He was staying at the same RV park that they went to.

Can you tell who she is by her pictures or description? You will learn the answer next month.

Please note :
The beauty shop will be open on Friday and Saturday before Mother's Day.
